

FLORIDA VETERINARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION'S 2006 PET HALL OF FAME AWARD

Presented by the FVMA to Honor the Outstanding Contributions
Our Animal Companions Make to Human Lives

Categories

There will be one inductee selected for each of the following categories:

1. HERO - Pets who have unselfishly saved or preserved human life (non-professional).
2. COMPANION - Pets who have provided a benefit and contributed to the quality of life of their human companions or their community.
3. PROFESSIONAL - Specialty trained for handicapped person's assistance animals or used in law enforcement.

Requirements for Nomination

1. Individual FVMA members may submit nominations or organizations having an FVMA member endorsement may also submit nominations.
2. Each nomination must be a living domestic animal that exemplifies the affection, loyalty, security and value of the human-animal bond.
3. Complete the nomination form below and on the back of this page. Make sure the owner/caretaker signs and returns the completed form to the FVMA no later than August 15, 2006.
4. Include a letter by nominating veterinarian and other (if desired) describing why the animal should be considered for the Pet Hall of Fame. You may want to explain why this pet has made a difference - unselfish or courageous accomplishments, examples of the pet's loyalty and companionship, or ways the pet provides healthful benefits.

Award Recipients and Recognition of Nominees

- Recipients of the award will be determined by members of the FVMA Hall of Fame Awards Committee.
- The award (a plaque) will be presented to a single winner in each category during the FVMA annual convention on Friday, Sept. 8, 2006 at the Buena Vista Palace (formally Wyndham) in Orlando. (Travel expenses will be paid by the FVMA).
- The award winners and their owner should be available to receive the award and to participate in the resulting statewide media coverage that may result from being presented this award.
- The owner (responsible party) is required to sign both the nomination and standard release forms.
